Security & privacy summary

Product controls and procurement limits | November 4, 2026

Candidate-owned work

Career content is private by default. Sponsoring a seat does not open an employee account to an employer. Seat managers can see seat identity, redemption, and last-active details. Engagement reporting is aggregate-only and suppressed below three redeemed seats.

Explicit sharing, separate boundaries

People select the work they submit for partner review. Forwarding requires separate consent. Turning forwarding off stops the link; withdrawing removes the review snapshot. Public portfolio files are publication-checked. Copies already downloaded cannot be recalled.

Access and storage

Account-scoped access controls protect saved career records. Privileged partner operations verify the caller and managed organization. Personal attachments, portraits, and resume PDFs use private storage. Data travels over HTTPS. No system can promise perfect security.

AI and sensitive information

Nostrali processes selected inputs to answer requested writing or practice tasks. Suggestions require owner review. No Straight Line does not train models on user writing. Provider training restrictions, retention, and processing terms require procurement verification; this brief does not certify them. Do not submit patient identifiers or confidential employer information.

Practice is not employee screening

Video practice stores approved external links and owner-supplied transcripts, not hosted video files. Feedback is transcript-based, not facial, emotion, or biometric analysis. Practice does not predict hiring outcomes. These design choices are not HIPAA, BIPA, or employment-law compliance certifications.

Portability and deletion

Settings exports saved career records and private files in a ZIP. Candidate-visible messages and presentation details are included; unsent reviews and private client reactions are excluded. Deletion clears saved career work, private files, and submitted packets, not the account, subscription, billing/security records, or lifetime allowances. Backups and provider logs follow provider schedules.

Before contracting

No SOC 2 certification, HIPAA certification, BAA, signed DPA, SSO, or independently audited WCAG conformance is asserted here. Confirm applicable provider terms, data locations, retention, incident processes, and contractual requirements before purchase. This brief is informational, not legal advice or a contractual guarantee.
